

MILLER ATTACKS RECORD OF ROOSEVELT AS GOVERNOR

 numerous stories to the thorough enjoyment of his audience.

Former Governor Miller was listened to with close attention. He did not turn to oratory, but gave a keen analysis of the campaign as he sees it. He praised the courage and sincerity of President Hoover and added that Governor Roosevelt does not "ring true."

Former Governor Miller ridiculed the promise of Mr. Roosevelt to cut the national budget 20 or 25 per cent and said that he proposed to "expose the sham of his pretensions." "He did not venture to say how he would make the proposed reductions," said the former governor, "but asked that his promise be accepted on his record as Governor of New York. That record is against him. It is a record of unbalanced budgets and of constantly increasing expenditures right through the depression up to the close of the fiscal year ending June 30 last."

Mr. Miller pointed out the fact that the New York State budget increased $200,000,000 in the last ten years and that about $100,000,000 of that increase occurred during the three depression years, from July 1, 1929 to June 30, 1932. Governor Roosevelt had a book surplus of over $80,000,000 at the beginning of that period and a deficit of $82,000,000 at the end, with $135,000,000 of revenue notes outstanding.

"He said at Buffalo at the beginning of his present campaign tour that the constantly mounting costs of the state government during his administration were caused by the economies of the Miller administration ten years before. He says that he had to make up for the neglect to provide sufficient accommodations and the consequent overcrowding of the state institutions in 1921 and 1922. That statement is false. The records show that there was no increase in overcrowding of the state institutions in 1921 and 1922. There had been an increase before 1921. There was no increase whatever those years."

"But in giving that excuse, Governor Roosevelt overlooked an important fact that the people do want to know all about. Let his statement of what happened in 1921 and 1922 be accepted as true. The fact is that since 1922 the State of New York has issued $150,000,000 of bonds for public works, in large part for the construction of state institutions. The cost of that debt service did add a comparatively small amount to his budgets, but what about the intellectual and moral calibre of the man who makes that excuse for an annual increase of $100,000,000 in expenditures at the same time he denounces the President for either dishonesty or inefficiency in the handling of national finances?"

 financial affairs of the Town of Westfield. He was not familiar with that phase of the situation, and although those who had given out figures concerning salaries of town officials, doubtless believed they were presenting the true facts, he did not want to be understood as having given utterance to any criticism of town administration.

The speaker asserted that the total tax bill of the nation—national, State, county, city and town—amounted to fourteen billions of dollars annually, or about one-third of the total income of all the people. This burden cannot be endured longer, he said.

Mr. Mayham said he would, if elected, work untiringly with Gov. A. Harry Moore in his splendid campaign to reduce the State's expenses.

ROTARIANS HEAR TALK ON BONUS

Facts and figures relative to the bonus situation from which his hearers might draw their own conclusions were given by Col. Walter A. Dempsey before the Rotary Club of Westfield yesterday. Col. Dempsey did not take sides on the issue but merely stated the situation from a non-partisan viewpoint.

There appears to be a changed opinion with reference to the veterans, the speaker said, from one quite favorable to one not so favorable. This has apparently been brought about by two conditions, the bonus march on Washington and the opinion that any legislation to pay the adjusted service compensation at this time would tend to retard business recovery.

The Colonel was of the opinion that President Hoover could take no other action than the one he did in relation to the bonus army. When the authorities advised the President that there was a danger of the situation becoming out of hand, that official was forced to take steps that would insure the preservation of law and order, he said. Col. Dempsey discussed the federal budget in some detail.

WESTFIELD OFFERS SEWER BOARD AID

Would Advance Portion of Requisition For Disposal Plant Site

A willingness to advance a portion of its first requisition in settlement of the amount due the Edgar estate for the acquisition of the disposal plant site in Woodbridge was expressed by Mayor Frederick S. Tipson of Westfield, Thursday night at the meeting of the Rahway Valley Joint Meeting. The property was acquired through condemnation proceedings but lack of funds prevented the Joint Meeting from paying the amount granted by the court. The Edgar estate has on several occasions asked when settlement would be made and a few months ago an agreement was made whereby the Joint Meeting was allowed to occupy the property by payment of rent and interest. Mayor Tipson stated that the proposal by Westfield would eliminate the interest charges against the Joint Meeting.

Mayor Tipson stated that Westfield had the amount called for in the requisition for funds set out by the Joint Meeting on deposit. He stated that this money was available and if agreeable to the Joint Meeting, a portion of it would be turned over to the Joint Meeting with the specific proviso that it be used for the purchase of the disposal plant site. Mayor Tipson explained that by so doing the amount of interest charges against both the Joint Meeting and the Town of Westfield would be materially reduced. The Edgar estate has been charging interest on the amount due and the Joint Meeting is charging interest against municipalities who have not paid in their respective amounts called for in the requisition. Westfield was unwilling to pay in its share until other municipalities had done so, the Mayor said.

Mayor Tipson's proposal was discussed and it was agreed to withhold action on it until the exact amount due the Edgar estate is determined. This, it was said, will be effected by the next meeting and the matter was left with the attorney for the Joint Meeting, Francis V. Dobbins and the claims committee. A telegram was read from J. Lynn Mahaffey of the State Department of Health in which he stated that the data and plans relative to the pumping stations to be installed in Rahway were on hand and a hearing on the matter would be held November 1. He was of the opinion that the state board was more than likely to approve the plans.

In response to a question put by Mayor Tipson, Township Committeeman Frank R. McCullough stated that Cranford would have its first requisition ready within forty-eight hours notice and Arthur H. Wendel, chairman of the Rahway Citizens' committee announced that the amount that Rahway was to pay on its first requisition had been underwritten and would be turned over to the Joint Meeting when Rahway had assurance that the disposal plant would be constructed.

The Joint Meeting formally accepted the specifications for the disposal plant as corrected and ordered them printed. The engineer, Clyde W. Potts, reported that steps were being taken to remedy the condition existing in the manhole near the county park in Rahway. Complaints had been received stating that the odor arising from one of the manholes had become a nuisance.

Attorney Dobbins reported that the Court of Errors and Appeals had upheld the decision of a lower court relative to claims made by the Henry W. Horst Company of Philadelphia, contractors on Section One and the Detroit Fidelity Bonding Company which had completed the work on Section Two.

The Joint Meeting held an executive session at which various claims were discussed. The meeting was directed by former Mayor Roger C. Aldrich of Cranford.

COLLEGE MEN'S CLUB PLANS FALL SMOKER

The College Men's Club of Westfield is preparing its social program for the coming season under the leadership of Harry Crichton, who is the chairman of the entertainment committee of the club. The club in the past has had such prominent and entertaining speakers as Commander Rosendahl, and Captain Willems. This year promises someone equally as interesting and a large gathering is expected.

Leading up to the fall smoker, the present members of the club are urged to bring eligibles for election. For qualification one must have been in attendance at a recognized college or technical school for at least one term. If anyone happens to be overlooked, he is to feel free to communicate with the secretary, G. W. Ruckert of 746 Clark street who will give him full particulars as to election to membership. Due to the rather informal membership committee organization, the club is unable to reach all the qualified people and the individual is urged, therefore, to take the initiative in reaching the secretary.
